

Stepaniuk new deputy mayor

Councillor Steve Stepaniuk was named Elk Point's deputy Mayor for the upcoming six months, at Town Council's yearly reorganizational meeting Monday night.

Meeting days will continue to be the second and fourth Mondays of the month, although several meetings were moved to Tuesdays to allow for Monday holidays. Meeting starting time will remain at 6:30 p.m. Council moved to stay at the same salary levels as for 1983-84.

Ethical guidelines of conduct for elected officials were given to each member of Council. These guidelines have been adopted by most municipal governments in Alberta and deal with such topics as conflict of interest, confidentiality and bias.

Mayor Buck presented Council with a tentative list of committee postings, which was later ratified by Council. The members of the numerous committees are as follows:

Parks, recreation, cemeteries: Councillors Schulmacher and Stepaniuk.

Finance, Bylaws, Personnel: Councillors Cooper, Kleeberger, Schuhmacher.

Public Works, Sanitation, Drainage, Utilities: Councillors Cooper, Kleeberger, Lesyk.

Synnside Manor: Mayor Buck, Councillor Lesyk. Buckingham House, Ft. George Manor: Councillor Kryvenchuk.

FCSS: Councillors Schuhmacher and Stepaniuk. Library: Councillor Kryvenchuk.

Disaster Services: Administrator Pat Vincent.

Police, Fire, Weeds, Pets, Dogs: Councillors Stepaniuk and Lesyk.

Municipal Planning Commission: Councillors Cooper, Schuhmacher, Lesyk.

Development Appeal Board: Councillors Kleeberger, Kryvenchuk, Lesyk.

Airport: Councillor Kryvenchuk, Mayor Buck.

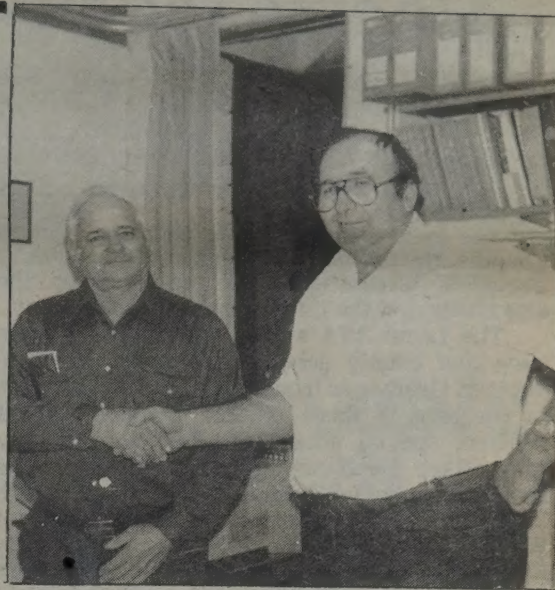

Chamber of Commerce, Economic Development: Mayor Buck, Councillor Kleeberger.

Development: Council as a whole.

Community Impact Assessment Study: Mayor Buck, Councillor Cooper, Administrator Pat Vincent.

Community Services Centre Management: Councillor Kryvenchuk, Administrator Pat Vincent.

The new committees will be getting to work right away, with the Public Works Committee told by the Administrator that they were scheduled for a street light tour with Alberta Power a scarce fifteen minutes after their appointment.

Satellite day homes ready soon

Safety approved daycare in homelike situations will soon be available for Elk Point Youngsters, Family and Community Support Services Director Kathie Locher has announced.

Four satellite day homes are now being inspected prior to the start of the program, which is basically a referral service for people needing day care for children under school age.

The day care providers are inspected by the FCSS, and undergo a security check by the RCMP. The potential day care homes must meet rigid standards of safety and cleanliness before being approved, and are subject to unannounced visits by the Satellite Day Home co-ordinator to make sure standards are maintained.

The program benefits both parents and care providers, noted Co-ordinator, Ethel Briand. The parents, in addition to knowing their children are in a safe and happy atmosphere, can obtain the same subsidies available through licenced day care centres. The parents meet with the providers to discuss discipline, eating habits, etc. and to iron out problems.

The care providers are given information packets, and can attend workshops to learn more about child care and development. Later, there will be a toy library and larger pieces of baby equipment available for use by the providers as needed. The providers can share their problems with the co-ordinator and home visitors, and will receive constant support from the agency. A backup sitter is available if a care provider becomes ill or must be away, or if a conflict arises between sitter and parents.

The FCSS collects the fees from the parents, and issues receipts for tax purposes to them, and then distributes the fees to the care providers. The providers may be eligible for income tax deductions, based on repairs of their homes to bring them up to approval standards, and on a portion of food and utility costs. Administration costs for the program are covered by the Department of Social Services and Community Health.

Elk Point has been licenced for a total of seven homes, but Kathie Locher noted that this figure could grow if a demand were shown. There is also a possibility that the program could expand to provide after-school care for older youngsters. Ms. Locher added that there is presently no day care facility available in Elk Point, and that "The women who babysit in their homes are overloaded."

LIONS CLUBS VISIT — Last Thursday evening three area Lions clubs met at a regular dinner meeting hosted by Elk Point. It was fitting to have all three presidents for the occasion, with Frank Staples of Bonnyville presenting souvenir bottles of heavy crude oil to Frank Mayner (center), Elk Point, and Herb Kretzer (right), St. Paul president. The Elk Point gong was taken home by St. Paul, on a point of privilege as explained by Lion Hugh Thomson (possession is 9/10ths of the law). An informative gathering with fellowship was the order of the day.

Past President of Local No. 26, Mr. Laverne Wilson, introduced the four retiring teachers: Mrs. Marie Marchand and Mrs. Berthe Lafrance, Racette; Mrs. Margaret Michaud, St. Paul Regional; and Mrs. Anne Uniat, Elk Point Elementary. Presentations to the retirees on behalf of the Local were made by Mr. Orest Lazarowich, ATA District Representative for Northeast Alberta. Each retiree briefly thanked the ATA reminiscing about their teaching careers and offering best wishes to the new teachers.

Mistress of Ceremonies, ATA local president, Mrs. Ella Skawronski called upon the superintendents to say a few words. Dr. F.X. Boulet, superintendent of town schools; and Mr. Bill Webb, superintendent of the County of St. Paul extended appreciation and warm wishes to the retiring teachers and words of welcome and encouragement to new teachers.

A wine and cheese reception at the St. Paul Regional High followed the banquet and ceremony. This was attended by guests from the induction and teachers of the Local.

Letter to the editor

The Lakeland Review welcomes letters to the editor. They should be as brief as possible, must be signed to indicate the writer's name, address and phone number. No letters will be published without a signature.

Dear Editor:

We are a group of citizens who are concerned with the petition that was presented to the Elk Point Town Council regarding the purchase of recreational land for $150,000. This petition did not present all the facts.

At present, there is $87,000 in reserves which can only be used for the purchase of recreational land, and which has been accumulating for a number of years. The balance of money can be obtained from government grants, as the Provincial Government has indicated will be available under a five year extension of the Major Cultural and Recreation grant program.

On the other hand, the Town plans to build a new library at a total cost of near $240,000. For this, the Town must borrow $80,000 on debentures, which will be paid back out of tax money. This plan has drawn no opposition from the taxpayers to date.

Does this mean that there are more avid readers in Elk Point than avid sportsmen and sportswomen? We doubt it.

Signed: W.A. Milholand, Ed Soldan and friends, Sports minded citizens of Elk Point.

Pioneer circle seniors keep busy

By MARGARET CLARK

What do we do at the Pioneer Circle, is a question often asked. The answer includes a wide range of activities which fit the many interests of the members.

Wednesday is Bingo afternoon, with a full house usually on hand for this occasion, coming from as far away as Derwent, Ashmont and Heinsberg.

Thursday afternoons at 2:00 p.m. several ladies gather for floor curling.

Friday evenings, there are from four to seven tables of Whist players, who take up their cards at 7:30 p.m. for an evening of fun.

Our doors are open every afternoon from 1:00 p.m. until 5:30 or 6:00 p.m., and there are usually several men in playing snooker and cribbage each day.

We have our Cribbage tournament started, with around twenty players participating, and also have a shuffleboard tournament on the go. Our monthly dances will soon be starting for the winter months. We also hope to have some bridge games as soon as everyone has finished the garden work.

In the near future, we hope to purchase carpet bowling equipment. With the help of the New Horizons grant, we were able to purchase a very good piano and the floor curling equipment, both of which everyone seems to enjoy so far.

Our monthly meetings are held the third Tuesday of the month, with a General Meeting on the third Tuesday of every third month.

We now have English and Ukranian Choral group, who have gone to the hospital to entertain the patients with their equipment.

We are now making the noon lunch for the Chamber of Commerce on the first and third Wednesdays of the month, with homemade soup and sandwiches. We also make lunches for funerals, for birthdays of fifty years and over, and for anniversaries.

As you can see, we are a very busy group, and we all enjoy the companionship of others. We are always happy to have other seniors visit us, and had 42 visitors from Vegreville a few weeks ago. Bonnyville seniors come whenever they are free to travel.

Everyone is very welcome to come to any of our activities.

In our October 3 issue, we indicated that RSTV has already installed cable television systems in Smoky Lake, Mannville and Two Hills, as well as in Elk Point. Actually, work has not yet begun on installing cable in these other towns.

A matter of ethics

Elk Point Town Council members were recently presented with copies of a code of ethical conduct for municipal government officials, which have been adopted by most of the municipal governments in Alberta.

The codes deal with such topics as conflict of interest, confidentiality, bias and discrimination, and caution elected officials to steer clear of these pitfalls.

The role of a council member is not an easy one. At any given time, they are involved in a number of decisions which affect the town and its people. They provide willing ears for the residents' problems, and direct these problems into the proper channels.

Although, as residents of the town, council members no doubt do have personal opinions on many of the matters coming before them, they have been cautioned against letting these opinions affect decision made for the good of the town as a whole.

Items brought up in committee meetings are not made public until they have been brought to council at a regular or special meeting. This is a vital part of the decision-making process.

Please, do not ask your councillors to take sides. Do not ask them what went on in committee meetings. These individuals do their utmost to give you fair government, and should not have their work subject to common gossip.

Help our elected officials to give us the best possible government by respecting their vows of confidentiality and impartiality.

Lights on-- and snow tires, too

Although somewhat prematurely, winter driving conditions have suddenly come upon us.

They do that every year, sneaking up on us when we aren't looking, and have not yet given the merest thought to snow tires. Suddenly, we're surrounded by snow and ice, and in many cases, our next stop is in a ditch or with our hood tucked into someone else's back bumper.

In spite of the lineups at local tire shops, installation of snow tires is the only safe way to deal with the road conditions. True, the ice and snow may go away before we know it, but at this time of year, we can be sure that it will be back.

Reducing speed will give a winter driver more chance to regain control on unseen icy patches. Seat belts will keep you and your children from going through the windshield when you hit the ditch.

For better visibility in snow and blowing snow, turn on your lights so approaching traffic can see you coming. This is also a good idea on gloomy days when the whole world looks grey, or for that matter, at anytime, as long as you remember to turn those lights off when you reach your destination.

Drive carefully -- we don't want to write any traffic accident reports about YOU.

meanwhile, back at the ranch

by VICKI BROOKER

Showers, turning to wet flurries, continuing cold with no break in sight... just what I always wanted to hear first thing on Monday morning! Isn't it enough that the temperature is sitting on freezing point and snow flakes are sitting on the picnic table outside my window? What a change from last Monday's 25 C. temperatures and sunfilled skies!

With weather as changeable as this, it's no wonder that fashion experts have brought in the 'layered look' -- it's the only conceivable solution to what to wear to get along with the weather.

A week ago Sunday, I went out baling straw. It was chilly and windy, and I hauled out the downfilled chore coat and the toque. The toque only lasted until I got in the tractor cab out of the wind, but the coat stayed on until the sun came out. By coffee time, it was comfortable outside in shirtsleeves, and it still was that way at dusk when my knotted quilt knotting and I decided 'knot' to fix it till morning.

Monday was beautiful. I went out to bale just after lunch, and promptly discovered it was far too hot for a long sleeved workshirt, even with the fan on and the windows open -- back to the house for a sleeveless summer top! It was still quite tropical when everyone gave up on the combining, grain hauling and baling for an hour and came in for a turkey supper.

Tuesday, they tell me, was just as nice. It was, I know, when I finally emerged from the office at 5:30 p.m. after helping to 'put the paper to bed'. Even when it got too dark to bale that evening, I was quite comfortable without a jacket walking back in from the field.

Wednesday was not bad, as long as one wore heavy boots, to keep from blowing away. It was still blowing, and hence not getting damp, when all three combines decided THEY would quit, even if we humans were too dumb to do so, shortly after 11:00 p.m. Three breakdowns in one round must be some sort of a record.

Thursday was once again quite pleasant, and the combining actually got finished. It's just as well, because Friday was definitely not harvest weather. Raincoats and rubber boots, rather.

Saturday and Sunday, the weather switched from cloud to sun a number of times, getting chillier as it went along. Today, I'm wondering if I shouldn't have worn my snowboots along with my mittens, heavy sweater and quilt-lined coat. As it is, I'm scared to look out the office window -- I don't have a shovel with me, and what if my truck is buried in snow by now?

Just this once, the weather man could be right!

Council news briefs

Alberta Transportation was authorized to relocate the manhole vent pipes on the main sewer line to the lagoon, as is necessary due to highway widening.

Council authorized review of their sewer cleaning policy, as contained in Bylaw No. 313, by the Public Works Committee, on a motion by councillor Kleeberger, with the committee to bring back their recommendations to council.

The Public Works Committee will meet with Alberta Power one evening in the near future to check all streetlights in Elk Point, and to determine which units are not working.

Public Works projects in progress as of October 8 included installation of riprap at the 54 Street level crossing, preparations for water fluoridation, and site preparation for the water intake pumpshed.

Council discussed construction of the new library at some length. The architect-client agreement with Kobayashi Architects Ltd. of Edmonton has been received, with Council agreeable to the fee of equal to 5% of construction costs.

Cost estimates for library furnishings were received from Library House Planning Concepts Ltd. and will be reviewed with the library board.

Mayor Buck noted that the total cost of the library, at $181,960, does not include the $58,000 value of the land on which it will be located. Included in the $181,960 is $31,822 in general reserves, $70,138 in multicultural & recreational facility development program grant, plus $80,000 in debenture. No objections were received on the intention to obtain the debenture.

Council later agreed that tenders for the library construction be sought immediately when the design is completed.

Council tabled for further study an administration report regarding additional costs incurred by the location of the fire truck with those belonging to the Town.

Final inspection of the mobile home subdivision was scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 2:00 p.m. The Public Works Committee members were asked to be present for the inspection.

Ron Chrapko has been approached by a construction firm seeking a site for temporary location of a camp for its workers. Council reviewed the request and moved to approve it on a temporary basis.

Surveying and registration of a subdivision plan for the parcel involved in the option to purchase signed by Pan-Canadian Petroleum was given a go-ahead by Council. The same action on a highway commercial parcel will go ahead when the deposit is received from the prospective purchaser.

Administrator Pat Vincent was appointed as an alternate representative of the Town to the Community Impact Assessment Study Steering Committee, in view of the multiple commitments of the Council members.

Personnel of East End Rentals were on hand to discuss conditions of development agreement and the manner in which their property is to be developed.

Council approved a motion to host a supper meeting at which Alberta Energy and Natural Resources Minister John Zaozirny will be guest speaker. The meeting, on October 25, will involve members of the Town and County Councils, Chamber of Commerce executive, MLA John Drobot, and representatives of several major oil companies.

Council also approved a request to sponsor an award at the F.G. Miller High School annual Awards Night on November 14.

What should I do when the market goes down?

(NC) — Recently, a friend asked: "What should I do?" "I invested money a few months ago in Templeton Growth Fund (an investment fund) and since that time it has gone sideways and downwards."

The date was July 24th 1984.

For approximately one year the market had been moving sideways a good part of the time, with periods of downward dips between the sideways motion. Sure, there were often three or four successive days when it went up, but the downs exceeded the ups.

What to do?

What would you do in such circumstances?

Just two days prior to that I had attended the annual meeting of the Templeton Growth Fund. It was attended by hundreds of people and there was plenty of media coverage.

The fund manager, Mr. John M. Templeton was the speaker. Books have been written about this man, and people throughout the world recognize him as being one of the top investment managers in the world. Those at the meeting had come from all parts of Canada and many had come from the United States to attend this meeting, and to hear his talk.

The Globe and Mail, on

IT'S YOUR MONEY
Paul J. Rockel

the front page of its business section, reported: "Mr. Templeton told shareholders that there would be poor years mixed with good ones. No human being, nor organization, can produce a superior record every year."

The report goes on to state: "Shareholders were told that investors must be willing to hold their units for at least five years."

So, I asked my friend: "Did you make this investment in order to make a short-term gain, or was it to build assets for the future?"

He responded: "Well, I was investing for the long-term result."

"Did your representative tell you, and show you, that investment funds have always had ups and downs, and there will always be periods it goes down?" was my next question.

"Well, now that you mention it, I recall being told that," was the response.

The long term
"Was it illustrated to you that the 'worst' five year period over the past 20 years in that fund shows an investment declining by 10 per cent and 13 per cent in two successive years, but they were followed by three upwards-moving years, so that given the five year period, the investment more than doubled?" I asked next.

He responded: "Yes, now I remember, in fact, I was left an illustration showing me that. Thank you for reminding me."

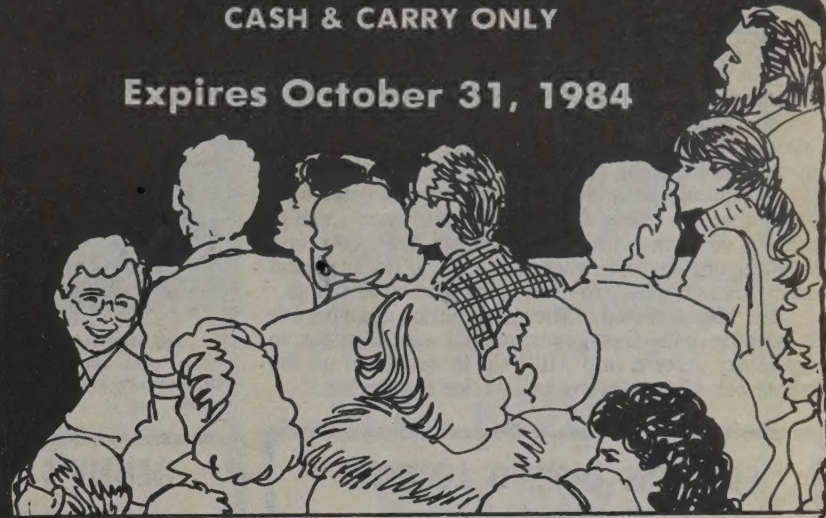

This illustrates an important point: we should never look at the short term in using investment funds. Experience has shown that given a reasonable length of time (5 years or more) they can be expected to outperform most other types of investments (good funds, that is). The only real losers are those who get scared and/or treat them as a short-term investment.

For information on what over 20 investment funds have done over the past eight years, write Paul J. Rockel, 153 Union St. E., Waterloo, Ont. N2J 1C4.

Trucking industry insurance changes

Release Date: October 15, 1984
P.C. No. 84-470

Alberta Transportation Minister, Marvin Moore, today announced changes in regulations relating to insurance requirements for the trucking industry, effective immediately.

While cargo insurance will still be mandatory, the filing of evidence of such coverage with the Motor Transport Branch will no longer be necessary.

Mr. Moore also noted that the requirement for fidelity bond insurance on C.O.D. shipments has been eliminated from the regulations.

In making the announcements, the Minister cautioned that the changes place a greater onus on shippers to confirm with their carriers that adequate cargo insurance and, where necessary, fidelity bond insurance is in place to meet their particular needs.

Mr. Moore stated, "These regulation changes are in keeping with this government's commitment to regulatory reform and will help to cut down on the paperwork associated with a carrier's operation."

Exploration of Canada's West
by Dr. William H. Nault,
Publisher, The World Book Encyclopedia

(NC) — Indirectly, the American Revolution led to exploration of Canada's western regions. The Ohio and Mississippi river valleys, sources of most of the furs used in Canada's fur trade, became a part of the United States after the Revolutionary War. British merchants in Montreal, who now dominated the fur trade, had to look elsewhere for furs.

By 1784, these merchants had formed the North West Company to trade north and west of the Great Lakes. The company competed with the powerful Hudson's Bay Company.

In its search for new and better fur trading areas, the North West Company sent explorers into the unknown western lands. Alexander Mackenzie reached the Mackenzie River in 1789 and the Pacific Ocean in 1793.

World Book tells us that in 1812 Lord Selkirk, a British colonizer, sponsored Scottish and Irish immigrants who settled on the Red River in what is now Manitoba. The settlement became known as the Red River Colony.

WHAT'S FOR DINNER? — Long term residents visit the hospital kitchen and see for themselves where all that good food is prepared.

TASTE TESTERS — Following the kitchen tour, the residents and their guides enjoyed oven-fresh ginger cookies in the cafeteria (and they were good!).

Indoor tour for rainy Friday

Elk Point Municipal Hospital's long term residents paid no attention to the gloomy weather outdoors on Friday, October 12 — they were going on a tour!

The tour, guided by physiotherapist Marilyn Dykstra and nurse Ruth Labossiere, led to the hospital kitchens, where Charlotte Engstrom and her crew were on hand to explain the way dishes were washed, meals were cook and served and food was stored on a large scale basis.

The huge equipment necessary to provide meals for such a number of people was the most interesting to the patients, who were shown where the diet sheet with their requirements, likes and dislikes was hung, to inform the dieticians what to put on each tray.

Fresh-from-the-oven cookies were distributed to everyone on the tour, and were enjoyed in the hospital's cheerful cafeteria, before the residents returned to their rooms.

Now that our initial start up problems are over, we would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank you for your initial and growing support of a community oriented ambulance service, catering to the needs of local people.

We offer our 24-hour service to Elk Point and area, Lindbergh, Heinsburg, Frog Lake Reserve, Kehewin Reserve, Onion Lake Reserve, Tulliby Lake and the Oil Patches. For those of you who are living outside the Elk Point directory number our new Zenith Number covers the exchanges of 826 - 847 and 726.

We have three fully equipped ambulances including special radio channel coverage for the numerous oil companies working in our area; enabling direct contact with the ambulance service and local hospitals.

Special thanks to the major oil companies for the privilege of using their radio frequencies and other oil companies who have expressed interest in protecting their employees in case of injury.

We would also like to thank the hospital staff for their support and for enabling us to use their facilities and equipment during CPR training courses.

Special thanks to the Fire Department for permission to respond to all fire calls; providing protection for the fire fighters and anyone at the scene of a fire. Thanks also for access to the Porta Power Unit, which we carry to all motor vehicle and industrial accidents.

Thank you to the RCMP personnel for the support and good working relationship we have shared during unforeseen tragedies, motor vehicle accidents, etc.

We have initiated an ambulance driver attendant training programme specifically for the needs of our nearby reserves using native residents, in order that the vast area and language barrier no longer poses a problem. It has become a great success and we would like to thank Chief Raymond Quinney, Chief Gordon Gadwa, Chief Leo Paul and Band Councillors for allowing us the privilege of employing three band members.

Thank you to the playschool and kindergarten teachers for allowing us the privilege of making the children aware of our ambulances and the equipment, which we would use should a child be injured or become ill.

Any persons wishing to become involved as part-time drivers or attendants, please call 724-4020.

WE CARE!

F.G. Miller High School highlights

By Samantha Gray

It's a new year at F.G. Miller Junior/Senior High and things are finally starting to roll.

We started off this year with what seemed to be a very successfully run scavenger hunt. This was put on by Mr. McCue and his drama class. Some items needed for your collection if you joined were: ape costume, wheel chair and of all the impossible things a black Judge's robe. The winners of this scavenger hunt were Melanie Poulin, Shari Fell, Cynthia Adkins, Lori Irvine, Lisa Lukevich and Linda Shmyr. These six girls won a $60.00 gift certificate at a participating record store.

At the present time students are trying to raise money for a senior high ski trip to Banff. To do so the ski trip group is urging everyone to buy squares on the baseball pools they made. Also in relation to money raisers, the Student's Union is putting on a chicken supper on October 30th. Students of F.G. Miller are asked to donate certain items in order to make this dinner successful.

With the coming of the new school year, the school adopted a new system for the Grade Sevens that not only enables them to take Home Ec and Industrial Education, but as well a Computer course which now cuts their year into three parts.

NOTICE TO LOCAL RESIDENTS

REGARDING THE ELK POINT COMMUNITY IMPACT STUDY

Boxes Will Be Picked Up Wednesday, October 24/84

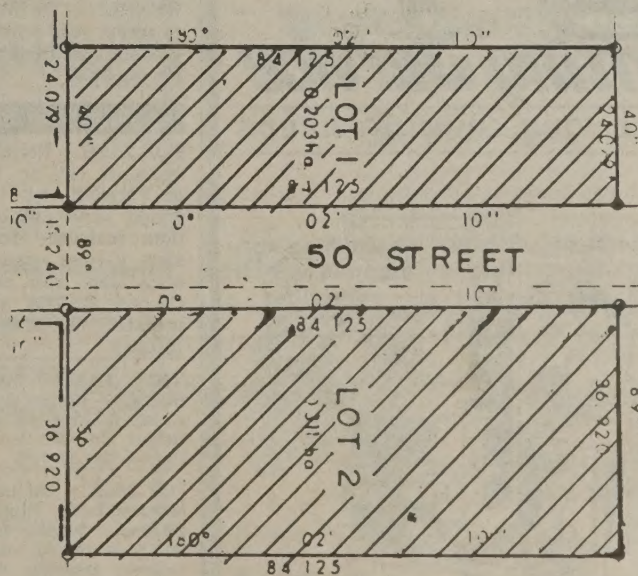

In late July, 1984 the Town of Elk Point initiated a community impact study. The primary goal of the study is to determine the potential effects of increased oil development activity on the community and to recommend courses of action that the Town might pursue. The project is being carried out by consultants with the assistance of local coordinators. A special steering committee, consisting of community residents and oil industry representatives, is overseeing the implementation of the project.

As part of the data collection phase, it is intended that a survey of area residents be carried out over the next two weeks. Survey questionnaires will be mailed to all local households. Your co-operation in completing the survey form and returning it to us will be appreciated. This is your opportunity to participate in the study!

Instructions for returning the survey forms will be included with the information mailed to you. If you do not receive a questionnaire, one may be picked up from the Town Office or obtained by contacting Leslie Keith at 724-4241 or Mary Bennett at 724-2456. Any questions you might have regarding the community survey, or about the community study in general, can be referred to either of these study coordinators.

From the Sergeant's desk

By SGT. JIM FELL

Transport Canada has reported that a mere click of a switch could save 200 lives per year, 2,500 injuries and $200,000,000.00 in related losses. In Scandinavia this click of a switch has reduced multi-vehicle collisions substantially and in some areas by up to 20 per cent.

Transport Canada's proposal would see legislation enacted before September, 1986 to the Canada Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations which would make the installation of vehicle daytime running lights mandatory. "All new motor vehicles would be equipped with front running lights activated whenever the vehicle engine is operating," the Minister said.

Manufacturers may meet the requirements of the new regulations by using reduced intensity high or low beam headlights; by increasing the intensity of parking lamps; or by installing special running lights on the front of the vehicle. Costs, including manufacturer's material and assembly, replacement of bulbs due to increased use, and additional fuel costs are expected to average about $15.00 per 10,000 km.

I find it a distinct advantage when driving, to have oncoming vehicles displaying their headlights during daylight hours. With the above research, it's not too difficult to convince me that it is a worthwhile practice, it's certainly food for thought.

Centennial hockey starts next week

Centennial League hockey action will take to the ice next week, with exhibition series play in both the "A" and "B" Divisions, newly elected League President Rod Hunter of Vermilion announced Sunday in Elk Point.

Hunter takes over the Presidential chair from Pat Vincent of Elk Point. League Vice-President will be Rene Houle of Goodfish Lake. Statisticians for the league will be Vicki Brooker in the "A" Division and Ron Onusko in the "B" Division.

There are some changes in the Centennial League this year, with the major change being that "A" Division teams will play only "A" Division teams, and "B" Division teams will play only "B" Division teams, with the only inter-divisional play in the final playoffs.

The Bonnyville Pontiacs have joined the Vermilion Winterhawks, Lac La Biche Clippers, Goodfish Flames and Cold Lake Packers in the "A" Division, while the Kikino Sabres have joined the Elk Point Elks, Goodfish Lake Kings, Kehewin Voyageurs and Saddle Lake Warriors in the "B" Division.

Two new teams have joined the league, and some of the teams have switched divisions since last year.

The schedules for the year were discussed, with some games being changed to eliminate unnecessary road trips, especially between Lac La Biche and Vermilion in the "A" Division, who have the farthest distance to travel.

The All-Star game was set for Saturday, February 2 in Lac La Biche, where Cold Lake, Bonnyville, Kehewin, Elk Point and Vermilion will make up the East team and Saddle Lake, Kikino, the two Goodfish teams and Lac La Biche will make up the West team. Because the lone set of AllStar sweaters is dwindling in number and declining in condition, it was decided that players on the West team will wear the white sweaters from their own teams, while the East teams will wear their own dark sweaters.

Schedules for the exhibition series in both divisions are as follows:

- "A" Division
October 23 — Bonnyville at Vermilion - 8:30 p.m.
October 24 — Lac La Biche at Goodfish - 8:30 p.m.
October 25 — Goodfish at Cold Lake - 8:30 p.m.
October 28 — Lac La Biche at Bonnyville - 2:30 p.m.
October 30 — Cold Lake at Lac La Biche - 8:30 p.m.
October 31 — Vermilion at Goodfish - 8:30 p.m.
November 2 — Goodfish at Bonnyville - 9:00 p.m.
November 3 — Goodfish at Lac La Biche - 8:50 p.m.
November 4 — Bonnyville at Cold Lake - 2:00 p.m.
November 6 — Cold Lake at Vermilion - 8:30 p.m.
- "B" Division
Sunday, October 28 — Kehewin at Elk Point - 7:30 p.m.
Monday, October 29 — Goodfish Kings at Saddle Lake - 8:30 p.m.
Thursday, November 1 — Elk Point at Kehewin - 8:30 p.m.
Friday, November 2 — Saddle Lake at Kikino - 8:30 p.m.
Sunday, November 4 — Goodfish Kings at Elk Point - 7:30 p.m.
Monday, November 5 — Kehewin at Saddle Lake - 8:30 p.m.
Monday, November 5 — Kikino at Goodfish Kings - 8:30 p.m.

All Kehewin Voyageurs home games will be played in Bonnyville's old arena, while all Kikino Sabres home games will be played in Lac La Biche.
